At last Mr. Pearson of North Carolina arose and asked if there was not some member, Democrat, Populist or Republican, who would raise a voice in his defense. Mrs. Chanler, who is an Episcopal, will not be wedded according to the ritual of that church, because of the ritual of that church, because of the regulations forbidding the second marriage of divorced persons, and the rumor declares that the ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Manzell of Richmond, who is a Lutheran clergyman. Mr. Manzell, when asked if the rumor was true, denied that he was about to marry Mrs. Chanler to Prince Troubelzekol, and though he is a Russian, says that he is not acquainted with the gentleman.

Prince Troubelezkol is described as an exceedingly fine-looking man, more than six feet in height, fair complexion and about 40 years of age. He has achieved quite a reputation in an artistic way, being known as the painter of some clever sketches and the composer of the four-act opera, "Melusine," which in March, 1895, was produced in Moscow and caused considerable enthusiasm. The writer of the libretto is Nouitler, and the story of the legend is said to be not alone practically told, but the music, after the German school, to be rich in harmony and shows much ingemity of orchestration. Prince Troubelzekol is said to be the composer of several exceedingly melodious songs, which Mrs. Chanler HAVANA, Feb. 17 .- Antonio Macco is fairly within the province of Havana and east of the Batabano trochs, and if he has not joined forces with Maximo Gomez he is in a position to do so when he pleases. He seems to have lapsed into a condition of seeming apathy, like that which characterized his stay in Puerto Principe, while Antonio Maceo was waging an energetic campaign in Santlago de Cuba. As that period of seeming apathy on Gomez's part terminated with his entrance into Santa Clara and his dashing march westward aimost to the gates of Havana, showing how busy he had been in making effective preparations, the authorities do not allow themselves to count much upon his present quietude. The last reported of Gomez he was in the neighborhood of San Antonio de Las Vegas, a little west of the center of Havana province. Prince Troubelzekol is sau to be the composer of several exceedingly melodious songs, which Mrs. Chanler has repeatedly sung for the entertainment of her English and French

Mrs. Chanler is widely known because of her literary work and because of her social charms. Her first novel, "The Quick or the Dead," created widespread discussion, and this she followed by "According to St. John' and "Tanis, the Sand Digger." Her family is a famous one in the south. Her grandfather was W. C. Rives, minister of the United States to the court of Louis Phillippe and a confidante of that monarch. Her father, Colonel Alfred Langdon Rives, was born in Paris and La Fayette was his godfather. Mrs. Chanler's mother was Miss Macruardo, granddaughter of Bishop Moore of Virginia. Mrs. Chanler was married to John Armstrong Chanler at Castle Hill on June 14, 1888, and has spent most of her time since abroad.
